Week 1:

I want to learn more about working on a project together with other people.
I can help others by doing my best and encourage others to do the same and initiate a welcoming working environment where everyone can be themselves and ask questions without being judged.

This week we have only been working one the social contract.

Week 2:

What I want to learn has not changed since last week because the project has not really started yet. And I can still help others by doing my best and encourage others to do the same and initiate a welcoming working environment where everyone can be themselves and ask questions without being judged.

This week we have gotten two more team members and filled them up with what has been done so far. We have also been brainstorming ideas and chose one we all liked. We are currently making a Trello to use when we start our first sprint.

Still everything has been made by everyone so there has been no personal deliveries yet.
